

COOKIE POLICY

"We would like to inform you that we, HWF Advokater AB org.no. 559136-9904 ("HWF", "we" or "us") use so-called cookies on this website. A cookie is a text file that contains information and is stored on your device when you visit a website. The purpose of this policy is to inform you about how we use cookies so that you can decide whether or not you want to consent to their use."

Which cookies are used on this website?

On our website, we only use cookies that are necessary for the website to function as intended, to make the website easy and secure for you as a visitor to use, to gather information about how our website is used, and to improve the services we offer you as a visitor.

In your browser settings, you can choose to disable the ability for a website to store cookies on your device, but some services or features may then not function. You can also delete previously stored cookies through your browser settings.

There are two types of cookies. One (session cookies) is temporarily stored during the time you are on a website, and the other (persistent cookies) remains on your device until they expire or until you remove them yourself. Cookies can be placed on your device by us as the website owner or by another website belonging to one of our partners.

Necessary cookies

These cookies cannot be declined as they are needed for our website to function smoothly and securely by enabling basic features. These cookies are only used when you use a feature on our website that requires a response or when you set personal preferences, such as language. No personal data is stored by these cookies.

Functional cookies

Functional cookies can be declined in the cookie banner that appears when you visit our website. These cookies provide better functionality and customization by remembering previous choices you have made on our website. Please note that functional cookies may include cookies placed on our website by one of our partners.

Performance cookies

Performance cookies can be declined in the cookie banner that appears when you visit our website. These cookies are necessary for us to compile statistics from our website, for example, regarding the number of visits or which pages are the most visited. The information collected is completely anonymous, but there may be cookies placed on our website by one of our partners even in this category.

Changes to this policy

We may make changes to this cookie policy, so please check its content when you visit our website from time to time. Significant changes will be highlighted on our website.

Processing of personal data

HWF acts as personal data controller for the processing of personal data as described above. This means that we are responsible for the correct processing of personal data and to ensure that the processing is done in accordance with applicable legislation.

For information on how we process your personal data, see our integrity policy.
